CHADWICK PLANS ANNUAL CHEESE DAY FESTIVALS

Thousands of Visitors Expected to Attend Yearly Event

Preparations for Chadwick's 7th annual Cheese Day celebration tomorrow evening and Thursday have been completed and everything is in readiness for entertaining thousands of visitors who each year attend this event.

Tomorrow night's program will consist of concerts by the Savanna American Legion band, and music by Herr Ferdinand and his Pretzel City Hungry Five of Freeport.

The Thursday afternoon and evening programs, set for 3 and 9:30 P. M., will include aerial and hand balancing acts, musical acts with vocal and instrumental numbers, comedy juggling acts and performing dogs. These free acts will be presented on a platform on Main street.

Big Parade
Thursday morning at 10 A. M., the big parade will get under way with a large group of floats, decorated cars, teams, bicycles, etc., in the lineup. Some $150 in prizes will be awarded to the best entries in each division.

At noon one of the most important events of the celebration—serving the free cheese sandwiches and coffee—will get under way in the village park, continuing until 2 P. M.—or until the supply of cheese and buns gives out. Seven or eight hundred pounds of the famous Chadwick cheese is in readiness for use as sandwich filler and 10,000 or more buns have been ordered by the lunch committee.

Baseball fans will have an opportunity to see the Chadwick Tigers in action against the first-string Aces at one o'clock Thursday afternoon on Weber's field.

Boxing Show
In the evening another sport event, the boxing show, will get under way at 8:30 in an open air arena. Five bouts will be held, with fighters from the tri-cities, Galesburg, Rockford, Macomb and Muskegon in the ring. Promoter Bert

Producing Dairy Cows Need Grain While on Pasture

Good producing dairy cows will require some grain this summer even though they are on good pasture, according to C. S. Rhode, of the dairy department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The general aim of a successful dairyman in feeding cows during summer months is to keep them in good flesh and to maintain the milk flow at normal levels, he explained.

If pastures are luxuriant, cows that are producing small amounts of milk or nearing the end of their lactation period will need no grain. However, better producing cows will probably handle one pound of grain for each four to six pounds of milk produced daily.

On good legume pastures a mixture of equal parts corn and oats will give good results. The same is true for other pastures early in the season. As warmer weather comes, less succulent, the addition of some protein supplement such as soybean meal to the farm grains is suggested. A mixture of 3 parts ground oats, 4 parts ground corn and 1 part soybean oil-meal should give satisfactory results, Rhode explained.

Babson Arab

Fadl, imported a few years ago from Cairo, Egypt, has sired many of the fine horses in the Babson stables.

George Cason, resident superintendent of the farm, reports that there are now 27 Arabs in the barns and 4 colts were foaled this spring. The large stable is about 140 feet long and contains stalls for 25 horses. The 60-foot smaller stable has 10 box stalls and an outdoor running yard.

Last year three stud colts were sold to western buyers. Two went to Colorado and one to Montana. However, Mr. Babson who is a resident of Chicago, does not raise the horses for profitable sales and merely devotes his interest and money to the exploitation of a hobby. Some of the animals, according to Mr. Cason, just don't have any price.

Besides the two excellent stables, both immaculately kept, there is a residence for Mr. Cason and his helper, Glenn Short.

One hundred and thirty acres comprise the farm, most of which is planted in Kentucky blue grass as pasture for the purebreds.

Last year Fadl took first at a Lake Forest show and this year Mr. Cason is planning to make entries at Springfield at the state fair. In the Arab class last year the Babson stables took 3 firsts out of four.

On September 1 Fa-Eldene, another of the Arabs will be entered in an endurance test at Rutland, Vt. This event is to test the ability of the animals to stand trail hikes and they are subjected to 6 hours of riding a day over a hundred mile endurance ride. On the last day they are scheduled for a 40-mile hike.

GREEN COUNTY FAIR ATTRACTS LOCAL FARMERS

The eighty-fourth annual Green county, Wisconsin fair will open Tuesday, Aug. 9 and continue through Aug. 14. Secretary Leland White has announced an excellent program for the patrons of the fair for the entire period. As in previous years, the program of harness races will be featured, starting Friday afternoon and continuing through Sunday. An exceptionally large list of entries have been received in all classes. The special night fair shows will be presented throughout the period.

For many years the Green county fair at Monroe has attracted horse owners from all states of the central west. The racing program opens Friday afternoon, Aug. 12 at 1 o'clock with three events carded: the 2:28 pace, three year old trot and 2:15 pace, Saturday afternoon, the program calls for the 2:20 trot beginning at 1:30, the three year old pace and a 2:28 trotting event. On Sunday, the closing day, the racing program opens at 1:30 with the 2:10 pace, a 2:12 trot and 2:20 pace. Special free attractions of a high calibre will be presented each afternoon and evening throughout the fair period. Several from Dixon and Lee county plan to attend the Monroe fair each season.

The name "volcano" was applied first to Mount Etna and some of the Lipari Islands, which were regarded as seats of Vulcan, the god of fire.

According to Dr. Horton Casparis of Paris, sufferers from hay fever are seldom ill from other diseases.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

During the next few weeks a lot of blue ribbons will be hung on farm animals at county and state fairs. We will see some fine looking cattle and hogs and poultry.

But at Mount Hope Farm near Williamstown, Mass. it has been proved that "the appearance of farm animals means nothing to the farmer who wants to earn a living from their production."

That statement was made in "Life" for July 11 in which there were several pages of pictures taken at Mount Hope Farm. (If you have not seen the magazine, it would be worth your while to look up that particular issue.) They go on to say that a "farmer would be awed by its modern, superclean barns, pig pens, and chicken coops and would expect to see sleek Jersey or

1938 is Record Year of Legumes

More legumes will be placed in Illinois silos this year than during any previous cropping season, maintains C. S. Rhode, of the dairy department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

In explaining the cause for the recent interest in legume silage, Rhode explained that a good quality silage can be made from legumes by adding molasses and that rain at the time of cutting does not affect the quality of silage as it does the hay. In fact better silage results if the legumes are put in the silo soon after cutting.

Any of the common legumes may be used for silage. When they are ready to be cut for hay they are ready for silage. About 70 to 80 pounds of molasses is recommended for green alfalfa or clover for silage and 80 to 100 pounds for soybeans.

You can get them by improving quality and hastening maturity—thus increasing market value. Applying RUHM'S PHOSPHATE (15% Phosphorus—85% thru 300 mesh—the finest Phosphate made.) will do this, and give you greatly increased yields IN ADDITION to greater $$$ value per bushel or ton. Quick acting. Inexpensive. Best investment a farmer can make.

Farm Briefs

GRASSES EXCELLENT

Grass crop conditions are excellent and near the high record. Pastures have been the best in years.

FREAK OF NATURE

Joe Hammond of Amboy is displaying a triplet ear of corn. One large ear with two smaller ones grown to it, make it an unusual agricultural product.

SOYBEAN ACREAGE

The total acreage of soybeans for beans and hay is down 2 per cent and the oat acreage for harvest is unchanged from last year. State tame hay acreage shows a heavy increase of 20 per cent.

PURCHASES FARM

L. E. Bacon has purchased the 160-acre farm owned by the estate of Albert Schryver. The consideration was $40 per acre. The farm is located about 7 miles southwest of Polo in Eagle Point township.

TO CHAMPAIGN

Lee County Farm Adviser C. E. Yale went to Champaign Friday to attend a meeting of the committees working on the annual IAA Sports Festival which will be held September 2 and 3. Yale is a member of the committee on adult softball.

STORM DAMAGE

The terrific hail storm last week did considerable damage to corn in this area. In some cases whole fields were bowed down. Some farmers report that they doubt if some fields will yield a crop of any kind—hardly enough was left for fodder. Nature seems to have a corn allotment all her own.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

Lincoln township in Ogle county has been listed among the townships in the state to be slated for additional farm electric lines. Mt. Morris and Lafayette townships have also been included in the same county. The west end of Ogle county is becoming well provided with this added advantage to modern farm life.

RAINFALL IS HEAVY

During the months of May and June the rainfall was nearly twice the normal precipitation in this area. Records reveal that the 1938 rainfall during the two-month period was 13.34, nearly twice the amount in a normal year which is 7.52 inches. Rainfall for first six months of the year has totaled 22.38 inches, as compared with the normal precipitation of 15.07 inches.

MONTHLY MILK SALES

Daily average sales of fluid milk for the six-month period ending June 30, 1938, showed a decrease of 4.78 per cent compared with the first six months of 1937, according to reports from 136 leading markets to the Milk Industry Foundation. Daily average sales for June 1938 of 6,117,032 were 8.86 per cent below the June 1937 total of 6,711,999 quarts. Employment decreased 4.33 per cent for the six-month period and 5.8 per cent in June compared with June 1937. Milk company payrolls decreased less than 1 of 1 per cent during the six-month period despite the large decrease in employment. June payrolls this year were off 3.7 per cent for June 1937 but were also higher by 3.9 per cent than 1936.

CROWS ARE KILLED

Thousands of crows were killed in Lee county during the winter months and early spring, and it is reported that the eradication program is to be renewed this fall. The extermination of the crows is carried on under the direction of the state Department of Conservation and Lee county led all of the counties of the state in this

Win in Both Livestock and Dairy Judging at Event Yesterday

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Winners were announced last night in the annual 4-H club livestock and dairy judging contests held yesterday at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Club teams from seven counties captured Class A rating, with Bureau county's members winning in both livestock and dairy judging. Class A livestock judging Class A rankings were Bureau, DeKalb, Fulton and Iroquois. Teams from Vermilion, Will and Winnebago won similar honors in judging dairy cattle.

Stanley Tanner of Hancock county, Don Callahan, Iroquois and Howard Smith, McDonough, were winners of Class A individual honors in livestock judging. Class A individual honors in judging dairy cattle were won by Howard Campbell, Randolph county; Eugene Poehler, Effingham; Herman Oost, McHenry and Omer Baumgartner, Bureau.

Teams winning Class B honors in livestock judging were from Adams, Coles, Douglas, DeKalb, Hancock, Jersey, Kankakee, Logan, Mercer, McDonough, Ogle, Warren and Vermilion counties.

Class B Ratings.

Class B ratings in dairy judging were awarded teams from Bureau, DuPage, Effingham, Fulton, Henry, Jersey, Jasper, Kendall, Kankakee, LaSalle, Madison, Randolph, St. Clair, Stephenson and Winnebago counties.

Illinois Corn is Beginning to Show The Need of Rain

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A. J. Surratt, federal agricultural statistician, has reported that Illinois corn is "beginning to show the need of rain" to maintain its heavy growth and rapid development. Timely rains will be needed in the future, he said.

"Soil conditions are unusually hard and many fields show considerable weed growth," Surratt reported. Corn development has been very rapid during July and earlier unevenness of growth is becoming less noticeable.

"About 75 per cent of the state corn crop is tasseled, with stands mostly well-eared and of good height and color. There is much late corn, especially in the north, and many replanted fields else-

AAA RULE MAY BECOME ISSUE IN CORN BELT

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The new crop control law may become an important issue in four major farming areas during the next few weeks.

Officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration have sent representatives to the cotton belt to attack a "domestic allotment" program, which would permit farmers to grow all they wanted for foreign markets. Each grower would be given a share in the domestic market, for which he would receive cost of production prices.

This program, which had strong support in the last session of Congress, is described in reports reaching here as gaining adherents among farmers.

It is quite probable, officials said, that a referendum will be held in the Midwestern Corn Belt to determine whether growers favor imposing marketing quotas to keep price-depressing surplus grain off the market. A decision on the referendum will depend on an official forecast August 10 on the size of this year's corn crop.

AAA officials expect wheat farmers to start debating the pros and cons of the farm program as soon as they start receiving individual acreage allotments for grain to be seeded this fall. Wheat farmers as a whole are being asked to plant 31 per cent less land to the grain.

The question of legality of the farm law already has been raised in the southern tobacco belt. Growers in Georgia and Florida obtained temporary injunctions against penalty taxes levied for violation of marketing quotas. These injunction orders, AAA officials said, will be carried to the supreme court, if necessary, to determine constitutionality of the legislation.

FARMERS CROWD SPRING PIG CROP FOR EARLY MARKET

Of Illinois' crop of 3,986,000 spring pigs, those that come first to market have the best chance to bring a good price, says E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

At present prices hogs are paying so well for the corn they eat that there is a general tendency to raise more hogs and to feed them to heavier weights, Robbins explained. More spring pigs are reported this year, and more fall pigs are forecast.

Because of these facts, farmers who are cooperating with the extension service of the College of Agriculture in the livestock management project are giving their early spring pigs all they can eat.

A full feed of corn with what tankage or tankage and soybean meal, two parts to one, the pigs will eat on alfalfa or clover pasture constitutes the usual feeding program this summer. Farmers who have used this plan for many years regularly have their early spring pigs weighing 200 pounds or more in August or September when the prices usually are much higher than later in the fall, Robbins said.

Furthermore, experimental work shows that well bred pigs gain a third faster than scrubs and on a fifth less feed a pound of gain. Most Illinois farmers are already raising purebred, crossbred or high grade hogs, with only a few still feeding scrubs.

Medium-type hogs sell quickest and highest on the markets. Most farmers insist on using medium-type boars, with deep sides, wide chests and large hams. Pigs of that type can be fattened to top the market at weight of 200 to 250 pounds when six months of age, Robbins said. Herds can be improved in productiveness by selecting for breeding purposes boars and gilts from large litters actually raised.

Easier and more accurate turning, as well as a lowering of fuel consumption, is claimed for tractors equipped with non-skid "ring" tires on the front and extra high cleats on the rear tires.

The Living Soil

... Its Modern Care

By CHARLES H. SALT
Director, The Living Soil Institute
An observing person once said, "There is good in everyone, even the devil, for he at least keeps busy." By the same token, we can say that garden weeds have good qualities for they certainly keep busy growing in our gardens. Most of us, however, do not appreciate that weeds are of indirect value in that we cultivate our soil in order to destroy them. This has led some authorities to say that soil receives ample cultivation, when the weeds are kept under control.

It would seem that we today need to change many of our ideas on soil care to be in keeping with suggested current practices. The writer recalls, as a youth, working on a farm, chopping at the soil, where the foreman insisted that the soil in the corn fields be worked to a depth of some eight inches.

Done at this season of the year, there is experimental evidence to hand today to indicate this would be most harmful. The home gardener will obtain the best results if he first sees that his soil is thoroughly prepared. Under such conditions, cultivation usually may be limited to the control of weeds. Even then, avoid deep cultivation.

Controlling weeds in the garden presents an apparently insurmountable problem to many. In numerous instances this is because they allow their enemy, the weeds, to grow too large before beginning their attack. Then, too, the actual elimination of the weeds is such a big job because antiquated methods of eradication are followed. Whereas chopping hoes and weedeaters were formerly the only means to this end, there is available for use by the farmer and gardener today, time and labor saving equipment which is pulled through the soil much the same as are large tractor and horse drawn farm cultivators. Authorities say that the time usually consumed in weed control thus may be cut more than in half. The gardener who wishes to get the most out of his hobby keeps tab on modern methods and facilities.

PRICES OF MEAT MOUNT SLIGHTLY IN PAST MONTH

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Accompanying improved consumer demand, wholesale prices of all classes of meat and livestock, excepting lambs, increased slightly during July, the Institute of American Meat Packers has reported. Wholesale prices of dressed lamb declined about nine per cent.

Aggregate production of meat during July was substantially larger than during the same month a year ago and somewhat larger than during June. Pork production increased 40 per cent over July last year, while beef was estimated at 20 per cent above a year ago and 10 per cent over June this year. Veal production for the month was well below the heavy production in July a year ago, but there was little change in either veal or lamb compared with June this year.

Market prices of the better grades of cattle were higher at the end of July than at the beginning and hog prices somewhat followed this trend. Lamb prices were about the same at the end of the month as at the beginning. Market prices of veal calves advanced during the first part of the month and held steady until the close.

Consumption of meat and lard during the month, the institute estimated, was slightly larger, compared with July last year and June this year.

Discovery of new metals and new alloys in the last quarter century has enabled automobile manufacturers to build cars which would have weighed twice as much if constructed in 1910.

SALE OF LEGUME HAY MEANS SALE OF SOIL FERTILITY

Selling hay at current low prices is an unprofitable method of disposing of valuable soil fertility through the fine clover crop produced this year on many Illinois farms, says E. T. Walker, extension specialist in agronomy, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"Instances are reported of the sale of a fine two-ton crop of clover at a price netting $4 or less an acre above expenses of cutting and baling," Walker said. "Fertility elements in such a crop of clover hay are worth nearly three times as much plowed under as green manure."

Two tons of red clover hay contains 80 pounds of nitrogen, 10 pounds of phosphorus, 60 pounds of potassium and the calcium equivalent of 146 pounds of limestone. This amount of phosphorus, potassium and calcium is worth $3.75, and the nitrogen in commercial form is worth an additional $8, Walker explained.

"Even though the clover plants, if well inoculated, are able to obtain from the air the nitrogen contained in the hay, the sale of the hay will remove from the farm much larger amounts of the mineral elements which came only from the soil," he continued. "The same general relationship would apply to legume hay crops such as alfalfa and soybeans."

"The most practical method of replenishing the nitrogen and organic matter content of soil is by growing legume crops. However, to be really effective for this purpose, the legumes must be plowed down, used as pasture or if removed as to the greatest number of cows with the highest milk-producing qualities."

Today their champion has a record of 22,757 pounds of milk as a two-year-old and the average Mount Hope cow produces three times as much milk as the average U. S. cow.

Bred For Profitable Qualities

Not all their work has been done with cattle. Hogs were changed from lard to pork producers and sows were bred to bear larger litters.

In the last six years they have increased the weight of their chickens one pound, the size of the egg three ounces per dozen, and are getting 30 per cent more eggs.

Their chickens, like their cattle, are bred for qualities that will make them profitable, rather than for fancy feathers.

Certainly every person who is raising chickens for the money there is in it will profit as more breeders take this viewpoint.

Only this morning I was reading about a man in England who is trying to develop a bird that will satisfactorily combine good egg production, the highest "table quality" of any fowl, and a reasonable rate of maturity.

"It looks an impossible ideal," he says, "particularly as we know something of the impossibility of getting both milk and flesh in cattle in the same breed, and keeping it."

But he feels that it's worth attempting. So he's trying it.

He has mixed breeds freely. And it doesn't matter to him if they have single combs, or pea combs, or even rose combs. He has only one standard—USEFULNESS—the same standard they have at Mount Hope Farm, and the same standard we should have in selecting livestock.

Sincerely Yours,

THE LOVE OF MONEY

Nobody knows how long people have been going about prating about the love of money being the root of all evil. We say it in Sunday school and church, on the platform and in the press without ever stopping to question its accuracy.

"The love of money is the root of all evil."
Everybody says so, therefore it must be true. But the fact is that since everybody thinks it is true, it probably is not.

Somebody, seeking to add to his personal fortune, invented the automobile, which is a great blessing. Somebody else, traveling to the corner drugstore for a package of chewing gum, steps on the gas until he hits 40 miles an hour on a crowded street, and kills a pedestrian. In such a case the love of speed is the root of evil and money had nothing to do with it.

Europeans today are crowding their hours to build more munitions, airplanes, battleships and tanks. Such devices bring no one any money except the factory owners, but the factory owners are not at the bottom of it, as in some countries the factories are owned by government. These weapons and supplies are built against the day when war will come, and if that war is waged it will not be for the love of money, but for the love of power. We have yet to examine a war in which the populations fought consciously for the love of money, even though economic conditions may sometimes contribute to creation of strife.

"The love of money is the root of all evil." The nation has its quota of men who, in order to obtain a marijuana refer or a dose of certain opiates will rob and kill. Certainly those who peddle the stuff do it for love of money, but the customers think little of money and much of dope.

The love of money, on the contrary, is the source of much good. For the love of money men will invent devices that lessen drudgery; they will teach mathematics, philosophy, religion and music; they strive for greater efficiency so as to earn more.

Some people profess to see in every human activity the desire for money or the desire for some lady's approval. Each premise is wrong. Others believe human activity is bound up generally with the desire to satisfy one's vanity, to keep up with the Joneses. That is wrong, too. People do things because they want to, and their motives are as varied as their finger-prints.

"The love of money is the root of all evil." People have been saying this so long that idealists really fear their ambition to lay in a stack of coins against the rainy day. What rot! The love of money is a blessing, and we venture to say that the improvident soul who has no regard for money is headed for more trouble than the provident man.

Most of us, although we may not adore money passionately, have at least a passing fondness for it.

NO SANTA CLAUS

No political Santa Claus is going to hang prosperity on the nation's Christmas tree, Henry Ford said in an interview on his 75th birthday.

Instead, the automobile manufacturer said, the United States must rid itself of its dependent spirit, realize that there is no economic magic man, and buckle down to work.

Ford, reiterated a prediction that America's most prosperous period lies ahead.

Nation Must Build.

"But," he said, "if you expect it tomorrow, you may be disappointed. It is that kind of here today and gone tomorrow stuff that causes most of our difficulties."

"We must build—we must plant and cultivate. Things worth while are not grabbed out of the air."

Ford declared that artificial experiments have fostered a spirit of dependency on the part of citizens. "If we get rid of this," he said, "and realize that there is no political Santa Claus, we will be on the road again."

"Sometimes we mistook something else for prosperity and thought we had arrived; sometimes we greedily tried to hurry it up and delay resulted."

Sees Signs of Upturn

He said he had seen signs of business revival, but added: "The whole thing is so mixed up with false elements that there is danger we may pin our faith to these instead of the concrete elements."

"The only market we have that is worth a hoot is the market provided by wages, and you would be surprised to know how many schemes there are to curtail that market."

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

Many writers pride themselves upon their ability to select the most descriptive words to suit their purpose. One such writer was reviewing a book which he intended to publish and he came across a sentence which used the word "rustle". He thought about the use of the word in that particular place and after concentrating upon the single word "rustle" for a while it began to turn itself around in his mind until it gave him other words using the same letters. Can you think of three good English words which are composed of the same letters?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with

Albert Edward Wigcam, S. S. Author of "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea," (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. The business woman was Mrs. Herbert Witherspoon, widow of the late Herbert Witherspoon, Director of the Metropolitan Opera of New York. True, Mrs. Witherspoon has found this a balance wheel for her life and relates that she and her late husband often cooked a Sunday dinner for their friends. Yet, I think it depends a good deal on a woman's temperament and training whether she could best balance her mental wheel—or wheels—by cooking or by sewing or golf or tennis or some other diversion. I know one who balances her wheels by raising hogs, another by hobnobbing alone in a trailer.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Human nature is a strange mixture. Half the time when we honestly think we are animated by the noblest motives of sympathy in doing good to others we are merely trying to bolster up our feeling of superiority over him and unconsciously trying to put him in an inferior position. Just analyze the last half dozen of your "good daily deeds"—provided you have even done that many—and see if this is not true.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. I understand the secretary knows something of genetics—the science of heredity—nevertheless, I do not agree with him. While it would be easier to breed fools than geniuses—something we do right along—yet it would be a rather simple matter to produce a pretty "pure line" of geniuses provided your imaginary dictator had unlimited power and could mate human beings as we do animals and throw out, kill, sterilize or segregate the runts and culs. I hope no one will ever be enough of a star-spangled fool to suggest such an experiment but I wish to register emphatic disagreement with the secretary's statement because, if true, it would deny all we know of heredity.

LABOR MISTRIAL

COST ESTIMATED

350 THOUSANDS

Jury in Harlan, Kentucky Conspiracy Case Unable to Agree

London, Ky., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Federal government and the defense in the eleven weeks Harlan anti-labor conspiracy mistrial spent an estimated $350,000 without a decision whether a conviction is possible on a criminal violation under the Wagner labor act.

Court attaches made the estimate after Federal Judge H. Church Ford late yesterday discharged the hopelessly deadlocked jury which had deliberated 9 hours and 53 minutes.

Brien McMahon, chief of the government counsel announced today that Federal Bureau of Investigation men would go back into Harlan county immediately to stay until the next trial. He said the number was uncertain but that it would not be the same crew that conducted the pre-trial investigation.

When the jury was discharged McMahon moved for an immediate retrial. Judge Ford set September 17 at Lexington as the time he will hear the government motion.

Thirty-nine individuals, many of them former peace officers and 16 corporations were tried on charges that they conspired to prevent unionization of the Harlan coal fields under the labor act.

Estimated Costs

While there were no exact figures available from the defense and government on the cost of the trial, the prosecution had estimated expenses during the trial would run about $100,000. Court attaches estimated the defense had spent more.

A. B. Rouse of Lexington, district clerk, said the record cost about $20,000. He said it ran into 50 volumes, 13,000 pages and approximately 2,225,000 words.

Rouse said the witness fees and expenses were $42,000, jury cost about $6,500 of which the jurors received about $3,600 and an average of $275 each at $4 a day.

OHIO DEFEATED
BY CRACK WEST
BROOKLYN CLUBLee County Team Adds
Another Victory to Its Total

West Brooklyn added another victory to their total when they defeated Ohio by a score of 13-6. The game was rather loosely played, both teams making a number of errors. Anderson, Morrissey, J. and C. Gugerty led the opponents in hitting while Knauer topped the locals with two hits, one a terrific blow that resulted in a home run in the fifth inning. Ohio used two pitchers, C. Gugerty assuming duties in the early part of the game and was relieved in the latter part by Morrissey. Knauer as usual handled the pitching chores for his team and conducted himself in his capable manner with Hahn behind the bat doing a nice job as catcher.

Pielding honors fall to Faley for the visitors who robbed Curley Herman of a sure double when he pulled down a hard-hit line drive that ordinarily would have counted for two and possibly three bases. Hahn, first baseman for West Brooklyn scooted all over his corner of the diamond scooping up hot grounders and making long runs to catch fouls—yessir—Kenny was there.

Elmer Layden
Leads in Poll
For Star Coach

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Elmer Layden, Notre Dame coach and former fullback of the Irish when the Four Horsemen charged to fame, went into first place today in the poll which will determine the college All Star coach for the coming football meeting with the Washington Redskins Aug. 12.

Latest returns showed Layden had advanced from fourth place to supplant Harry Kipke, former Michigan coach, as the leader.

Layden had a total of 2,079,967 votes. Then came Bo McMillin of Indiana with 2,022,326; Raymond Pond, Yale, with 2,019,856; Kipke, 2,009,122; and Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern 1,355,996.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

SCOUTING TALENT

"Chet" Barriage is reported to be scouting talent for his "meet-all-comers" cribbage team, which is expected to invade various circles during the coming season. Dixon Elks will compose the team and prospects point to a busy season both at home and on the road.

NEW HOME PLATE

Oscar Witzleb came to the rescue with a new home plate at the Airport. More than that, he spent the late afternoon yesterday marking the base lines and the batter's box so that now the whole thing becomes official. Mr. Witzleb fashioned the home plate and installed it himself. It is a great improvement at the diamond.

AT ROCK FALLS

The Knacks softball team defeated the Browns Athletic club of Rock Falls in the neighbors' yard last night to the tune of 4 to 2. The game went nine innings and batteries for the Knacks were Tucker on the mound and Long receiving. Tucker pitched a 2-hit game and the Knacks took seven hits off the pitching of the opposing hurler.

WORD TO WISE

Ole Prestegard, gum-foolized by his failure to hit 'em, has been getting up in the batting average world lately all because he sees things in a different light with a new pair of specs. You can see for yourself what they did for Ole's hitting last Sunday. Of course, the softball players are doing all right in most cases, but if there are any fanmors wondering what's the matter—they might take a tip from Ole. This is not an advertisement.

FIRST RETURNS

The first returns in the Telegraph's All-Star poll will be published tomorrow night. The ballots have been coming in rapidly and tonight the counters will take time off to record the first checking. By tomorrow at this time you'll know more about it—and so will we. Get your ballots in early, as it is expected that the polls will be closed within the next two weeks to allow the All-Stars some time for getting acquainted with each other on the practice field.

THE CUPBOARD WAS BARE

Fireman Dave Kelly resumed his duties this morning after a two weeks' vacation trip. Dave and wife and Dick Pomeroy, guard at the Joliet penitentiary, wife and son, spent a week up the river fishing. They had invited several friends to attend a cat fish fry at their cottage on Friday evening, but fishing was bad and but one victim was hooked. The company came and according to report, Dave and Dick had to hurry to Dixon and purchase 11 pounds of fish to make their word good.

HOLE-IN-ONE

O. D. Rogers, Jr., former Dixon young man, is another local boy who made good—with a hole-in-one. It all happened at the Dixon country club course Sunday morning in the rain. The foursome to witness the feat was composed of Ken Detweiler, E. M. Rorer, Dean Hey and the happy man, Rogers used a 19 iron (wood shaft and slightly outtuned) to tee off on the 5th. The ball hit within ten feet of the cup and went right on until it dropped out of sight. Rogers says he has been playing for 18 years and now his only ambition is to bowl under 300.

NEW COACH

Foster Keagle, football coach at Harrisburg for the past three seasons, will direct football and basketball teams of Princeton high school next year. Keagle replaces Glenn "Abe" Martin who coached in Princeton for one year and turned out a fine football and basketball team despite mediocre material. Coach Keagle, a graduate of North Central college at Naperville, am of New York university, has been in the coaching field for 9 years, six at Roodhouse, Ill., and the last three at Harrisburg. His record in football shows 50 victories, four ties and 21 defeats. In basketball: 78 victories and 42 defeats.

RED FACED SCORER

This department is in the pink today—but it's all in the face. We've discovered we have a single-track mind after all and can't do two things at once. With the All-Star ballots pouring into the

BIG QUESTION IS WHAT TRIBE WILL DO IN THE PINCHCleveland Indians Are Now Two and a Half
Games Behind

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer) Since early this season, one of the big questions concerning the American League race had to do with the staying qualities of the Cleveland Indians, the team that always had cracked up before.

Would the Indians "have it" in the clutch? How would they perform when the chips were down? Thus asked the fans.

So far Oscar Vitt and his men have picked up their fair share of the chips, but there's another of those important "clutches" at hand.

The Indians, now 2 1/2 games behind the leading New York Yankees as a result of yesterday's 11-8 defeat by Washington, face their toughest rivals in the next seven games. The third place Boston Red Sox, who trail the Tribe by only three games, open a four-game series at Cleveland today and after them the Yanks move in for three games.

Chances for Lead

If Cleveland can walk off with a good share of these games, it has a fine chance to take the lead. For after these clubs, the Indians will be tackling such rivals as St. Louis and Detroit while those tough easterners will be fighting among themselves.

Detroit's Tigers were threatening to become dangerous, winning eight games in a row to climb to fourth place. But they were checked abruptly by the Athletics in yesterday's only other game, going down 4-0 and slipping to fifth place, a half game behind Washington.

The Tribe's defeat yesterday is not to be taken as a sign of weakness, for Cleveland had won five straight before it came along. However Bobby Feller couldn't hold the 5-1 lead his mates handed him, although he whiffed six. Johnny Humphries also blew a lead in the eighth and ninth and when he yielded another tally in the tenth on hits by Chief Hogsett and Bud Lewis, Willis Hudlin replaced him. Hudlin put another runner on base with an error and Ossie Bluege doubled to bring them both—and the bacon—home.

Combine to Blank Detroit Lee Rose and Edgar Smith of the A's combined to blank Detroit with nine hits while Rose made two hits and drove in three Philadelphia runs.

The National League also comes in for its share of action in the next few days when the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs, second and third respectively, and only 2 1/2 games apart, tangle in a three game series. The Giants made a last minute effort to plug the biggest gap in their lineup yesterday when they bought Chalmers (Bill) Cissell, veteran second sacker, from Baltimore. A smart fielder and fair hitter, they hope he'll fill Burgess Whitehead's shoes. Lou Chiozza and Alex Kampouris, who tried unsuccessfully, both are on the injury list.

Flash! Joe Louis
Is Stopped By Cop

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis related today that a busy traffic officer caused an hour's delay in his appearance here with his Brown Bombers, Detroit softball team.

Louis said he and Alonzo Brooks, his automobile driver, were halted late yesterday at Dono, Ohio, near Toledo, for speeding and were halted before a justice of the peace.

"While we waited," Louis said, "a call came that someone was speeding down the highway and the arresting officer told us to wait while he chased the other 'victim'."

Joe paid a fine of $5 and costs, then came to suburban Lakewood where his Bombers lost an inter-city tilt, 2 to 1.

EX-PUBLISHER DEAD

Galesburg, Ill.—(AP)—Robert A. Chandler, 56, former publisher of the Galesburg Evening Mail, died yesterday. Chandler, who had been engaged in real estate and insurance business, was publisher of the Evening Mail prior to its consolidation with the Republican Register in 1927. His widow survives.

press box last night we devoted a little too much attention to seeing who was leading and missed the first out in the Wildcat fifth inning of the first game. The new ruling seems to be that it takes four outs to complete an inning. For the blunder we have crawled in the hole today and pulled it in after us. Anyway, we did find out who is leading in the All-Stars poll, but what a price!

CUBS DEFEATED
BY CARDS TEAM

The Cubs of the Junior Legion league and a team picked up to replace the Cardinals crossed bats Monday night and the Cubs lost by a score of 9 to 6.

According to rules, the game is a forfeit to the Cubs. These boys are good sports and take a trimming like real fellows. They are never discouraged and always come back for more. There will be more baseball Wednesday night between the White Sox and Indians.

GIANTS HAVING THEIR INFIELD
TROUBLES AGAINBuy Cissell from Baltimore Yesterday to Pull
Team Tighter

New York, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Last spring Burgess Whitehead, crack second baseman of the New York Giants' championship clubs of 1936 and 1937, underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Whitehead reported back too soon, pulled something loose and has been lost to the team since the first month.

Lou Chiozza proved so erratic and weak-hitting as a replacement that Manager Bill Terry sent slugging Wally Berger and a chunk of cash to Cincinnati in exchange for the renowned Greek, Alex Kampouris. Alex also proved something of a bust at the keystone, and now comes 34-year-old Chalmers Cissell to the Polo Grounds in a last, despairing effort to pull the champions' infield together.

The Giants bought Cissell from Baltimore yesterday for an unannounced sum, but probably in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Cissell first saw the big leagues 10 years ago and whether he will be an improvement upon Chiozza and Kampouris is strictly a gamble.

Never Could Hit.

Cissell never could hit. In 1928, the year after the Chicago White Sox purchased him for $12,000 in cash and players from Portland, he hit an extravagant 260, which by 1931 had dropped to 220. Right after that the Sox finally admitted they had been stung and traded him to Cleveland. Later he saw service with Boston and the Athletics.

His fielding, though brilliant at times was spotty. In one game with Portland, in fact, he committed nine errors and figured in seven double plays, which gives you an idea.

With Baltimore this year he has hit .296 in 94 games, and they say his fielding has improved with age. If he does as well with the Giants it goes without saying that Terry has done himself a lot of good, but players who know Cissell don't mind expressing their doubts.

Golfer Not to Go
Home Empty-Handed

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Bill Kaiser, Louisville professional on his way home from the St. Paul open golf tournament, won't return empty-handed.

He stopped off at Chicago yesterday, and, paired with Ed Barrett of Chicago, won low net honors in the annual Illinois Seniors Professionals tournament. They carded a 74, which with an 11 handicap, brought them a winning 63 total. Johnny Revolta of Evanston, the St. Paul winner, teamed with John H. Victor, another Chicago amateur to win the Gross award with a card of 35-37-72.

Two Rockford, Ill., pros—Gunnar Nelson and W. C. Gordon—wound up out of the prize list. Nelson teamed with H. S. Burpee for a 78-64-72, while Gordon and E. D. Parker scored an 82-6-76.

BAND LEADER ILL.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Al Kvale, 34, one-time popular band leader, was seriously ill in the county hospital today. He is a brother of Congressman Paul J. Kvale of Minnesota.

NIGHTLY "TRACK MEETS" HELD AT
AIRPORT FIELDHome Lumber and Fulfs
Downed by Base-Hungry
Black Farms, I. N. U.

The Black Farms team needed only spiked shoes, a cinder track and a stop watch and everything would have fit into the picture of the track meet they staged last night when they ran around bases to trounce Home Lumber 16 to 6. Not that everything was beer and skiddies for the farmers—for the Home Lumber really had them worried when Benson was knocked out of the box after giving off 11 free trips to first sack. Besides that the lumbermen chalked up four runs in the first—even though they were on errors.

After collecting one run in the second half of the first inning, when Anderson beat out a triple to center field to bring in D. Welty, the Black Farms came back in the second for four more tags at the keystone to go into the lead, 5 to 4. Beyers got on by an error in right field and scored on a base hit by C. Bohlen. Littrell went out on a fly ball to shortfielder for the first away. J. Bohlen singled out past second base to score his brother, Benson took the initial sack on an error by shortstop and Bohlen went to third. A double by Glessner brought in the runs but he was caught at third by a peg from left field. Sauer went down for the three-way when he sent one out to left field.

Twelve Face Pitcher

Black Farms took two more runs in the third, but in the fifth they really let go when 12 men came to bat. Glessner got on first by an error by second baseman, Sauer was out at first for the initial down, D. Welty got on by a fielder's choice and the runs scored on a base hit over third base by D. Anderson. Anderson came in on a double by C. Welty and a triple by Beyers scored him. A double by C. Bohlen and an error by the left fielder brought in Beyers. Littrell was walked and took third on an error by third baseman while C. Bohlen scored. J. Bohlen was walked and scored on an error by the catcher. Hoyte took the sack on a fielder's choice but went down on a peg from third baseman to the keystone. Glessner took a fielder's choice but his run didn't count as Sauer was nabbed by the catcher taking a pop-up for the three away.

Home Lumber used Emmert on the mound in that wildcat inning and Beyers took the place of Benson in the first of the fourth inning after Home Lumber had tallied two runs and Benson had walked three.

Off the combined efforts of the Home Lumber hurlers the farmers took 17 hits and the losers took but three from Benson and Beyers although they collected 12 walks from the pair.

I. N. U. STRONG

In the nightcap game things weren't quite so wild and the I. N. U. took the game for 12 to 5 from Fulfs.

It wasn't Jensen's fault as nine errors against his teammates show. He did his best—which is plenty good—but was taken out in the sixth.

I. N. U. brought in two runs in the first inning, the first on a triple by Jimmy Withers and the second on an error by catcher. A nice double play was made by the third baseman unassisted when McReynolds popped into his mits and he caught Fane coming in to third.

Fulfs took goose eggs all across the sheet until the last of the sixth when they took five runs. R. Bush was walked and went to second on a base hit by Jensen. A drive by D. Bush brought in his brother and Jensen went to third and scored on an error by catcher while Bush went to third. Hass took the fielder's choice in that affair and came in on a triple by Chiverton who brought in the fifth run on an error by the centerfielder.

In the first of the fourth I. N. U. took six runs from only two hits. Errors accounted for the major amount of the inning's scoring. Other runs were chalked up when the gas, light and power boys took one in the fifth, one in the sixth and two in the last.

Withers, pitching for I. N. U. gave 8 hits, while from Jensen and Strong the victors took seven.

BY EDDIE BRIETZ New York, Aug. 2.—(AP)—It set Promoter Hernan Taylor back a cool 15 grand when Tony Gajento got sick. Al Schacht claims he has found his successor in six-year-old "Weenie" Warneke of Terre Haute, Ind. . . . Mike Jacobs must cut down on coffee and cigarettes because of increasingly severe headaches. . . . Carl Hubbell, (Ye Olde Meat Ticket) shoots for No. 13 today. . . . One and all hope old Bill Cissell, just imported from Baltimore, can help the Giants. They sure can stand a little of same.

Some of the stories from Wimbledon said the lucky and good-looking Helen Jacobs left the court in tears after losing to La Moody. . . . Miss Jacobs never made a fuss about it, but she told friends it hurt her. "I felt like my heart was affected that way," she said. . . . Gus Lesnevich, the New Jersey light heavyweight, sailed for Australia thumping his nose at the New York Commish's proposed tournament. Which just about nailed it unanimous. Butch. . . . ### SWIM MEET HERE

One of the most thrilling sports events scheduled for this city will take place Wednesday evening, August 3, when swimming stars from Princeton will meet aquatic aces of this city. In addition to the usual water contests, racing features and diving events in all age classes, three new features have been worked up by the recreation committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring this event.

The most daring of these new features is the special "diving through a flaming hoop." This thrilling event alone should attract hundreds of spectators. Under-water novelties will take up a portion of the time allotted for unusual entertainment, and a special life saving demonstration given by the local guards will prove to be entertaining as well as instructive to all spectators.

The evening's entertainment will start promptly at 7 o'clock, with a few choice selections by the municipal band, which will play their regular Wednesday evening concert at Spring Lake, instead of on the parking lot.

Rochelle's swimming team, victors over Princeton last week, has been training diligently for this forthcoming event. Princeton will send up a strong team with several car loads of boosters in an effort to win the meet. Under the capable and experienced supervision of George Linnemeier, the team has turned in some impressive performances this week and expects to duplicate its victory over Princeton.

The tentative program will probably be divided into the following divisions: Children, boys and girls under 12 years, swim races in three groups, breaststroke, crawl and back stroke. Boys' race, ages 13 to 15, in all three divisions. Girls' race, ages 13 to 15, in all three divisions.

Children, boys and girls under 12 years, swim races in three groups, breaststroke, crawl and back stroke.

Boys' race, ages 13 to 15, in all three divisions. Girls' race, ages 13 to 15, in all three divisions.

Open class, boys over 16, in all three divisions.

Open class, girls over 16, in all three divisions.

Relay races, for all ages. Medley relay, for older group, by teams.

Diving events in all groups. Under water novelties, by local swim team.

Diving through flaming hoop. Life saving demonstration.

The last three items on the program are specialties, and will not be in the form of competitive entertainment. The program is expected to last nearly three hours. There will be plenty of seats for all but it will be prudent to get there early for the best points of vantage.

Members of the recreation committee who have arranged this event include John Maxson, chairman; A. H. Maginnis, C. H. Schaller, L. W. Masters, Fred Waring, Eddie Winebrenner, W. F. Vierke and Chester Ellis.

HERE AND THERE

The First Presbyterian church will be closed during the month of August for the pastor's annual vacation. At the service Sunday morning communion was served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Curtis Downer are leaving the forepart of this week on a motor trip to the Bad Lands and the Black Hills. Mr. Downer went to Chicago Monday to secure a new automobile to make the trip.

Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Bogue and daughter are on a vacation trip to California making the trip by train.

Chief of Police and Mrs. William Hungerford and children and Mr. and Mrs. Newman of Ohio have been vacationing at Washington island.

PLAN "HORNER DAY"

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Friends of Gov. Henry Horner have started a movement to celebrate "Horner Day" in suburban Riverside, on Saturday, August 27. The Cook county "day" will follow by nine days the Democratic gathering at the Illinois state fair, Springfield.

Hawaiian Rioting Becoming Serious

Hilo, Hawaii, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Thirty-six persons were treated today for buckshot wounds and other injuries suffered in the fiercest labor riot in Hilo's recent history.

One longshoreman was stabbed in the side with a bayonet, several persons were peppered about the head with buckshot and many received head injuries yesterday in a bloody encounter between police and some 500 waterfront strikers and sympathizers.

Five of the injured were considered in a serious condition.

The fight started when the Inter-Island Navigation Company's steamer Waiiale docked from Honolulu in defiance of a strike called by longshoremen May 27 when contract negotiations with the company collapsed.

On his first flight Orville Wright flew at a maximum speed of 31 miles an hour.
